ICONIC ADELAIDE

Today's regional experience will begin with a meet and greet at your accommodation by your local guide, before boarding your private luxury vehicle for a visit to the Adelaide Central Markets for a tasty breakfast, surrounded by the hustle and bustle of the vendors and teased with the wonderful aromas of freshly baked pastries, freshly ground coffee and the lovely mix of different cuisines being prepared.

After breakfast and a discussion with your private Adelaide Central Market host, you will be treated to a guided tour of the establishment, meeting many of the wonderful vendors and learning about their long-standing histories with the markets, often reaching back through many generations.

From the markets, your guide will escort you to your next destination, the Jam Factory. Located in Adelaide's West End Creative Precinct (another studio is located at Seppeltsfield within the Barossa Valley), the Jam Factory is a unique not-for-profit organisation that supports local talented designers and artists by showcasing the wonderful craftsmanship found within the Australian creative community. A private tour of the precinct's four studios (Ceramics, Glass Blowing, Furniture, and Jewellery) will allow you the opportunity to view the excellent collection of locally made crafts and designs.

Once your time at the Jam Factory has concluded, journey over to the South Australian Museum for a privately guided tour. This memorable experience will allow you the opportunity to view the largest collection of Aboriginal ethnographic material in the world, immersing you in the ancient and beautiful culture of the Indigenous Peoples of Australia.
